STEVENSON--PRICE

Marriage of Mr. J. H. Stevenson and Miss Cordelia Price.

A NOTABLE SOCIETY EVENT

Takes Place at the Home of the Bride's Father This Morning--Other Social News.

The nuptials of Miss Cordelia Price youngest daughter of Mr. J. R. Price, and Mr. J. H. Stevenson, were solemnized this morning at nine o'clock, at the family residence on Western avenue.

The floral decorations were of sweet peas. The exquisite tints of these blossoms were brought out to perfection by the rich green of luxurious ferns and moss which were sent the bride from Virginia.

The north parlor and dining room, thrown together by folding doors, were used for the ceremony, and the bow window in the first apartment was banded to the ceiling with palms and ferns. A curtain of sweet peas was draped in lambrquin fashion before the window, and fell in sweeping folds to the floor, on either side, where a profusion of white rugs made a thick carpet.

A screen of asparagus fern thickly interwoven with sweet peas filled in the grate and on the mantel piece apparently grew from a bed of soft moss, and were reflected in the broad mirror.

In the dining room the grate and mantel were a mass of ferns and vases were filled with the delicate flowers.

The library, converted into a temporary dining room was as charming in detail as the other apartments. A large oval glass bowl filled with sweet peas stood in puffs and billows of white silk on the dining table, and light refreshments were served from the side-board. Feather plumes twined thickly about the balustrade and tall palms stood in the corners of the reception hall.

Sweet peas were in the south parlor also, and at the appointed hour Miss Myrtle Jetmore, in a gown of white with yoke of white satin ribbon and insertion, went to the piano and Meudelssehn's wedding march signaled the approach of the bridal party.

Rev. S. B. Alderson met them under the drapery of sweet peas in the bow window.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie Price, her cousin, Miss Jeanette Price, of Springfield, Ill., and little Gladys Price, as maid of honor, all attired in empire gowns of white mull with insertion and deep bertha of valenciennes lace. Broad swathes of white satin ribbon were knotted in smart bows on the left side with long ends. Miss Price carried scarlet sweet peas, Miss Jeanette Price lavender, and Gladys pink.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Geo. Stevenson of New York as best man, and Mr. Ernest Davies of San Diego, Cal., as usher.

The bride's gown was an exquisite creation of ivory-white satin, with full court train. A Vandyke yoke of point lace adorned the simple bodice and a filmy veil fastened in the hair with a bandeau of pearls, fell to the hem of the gown, completely enveloping her figure. A diamond brooch, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament. She carried a loose bunch of long-stemmed white sweet peas and white suede gloves and satin slippers completed a perfect toilette.

About forty guests, including the relatives and intimate friends, were present at the wedding and ringed their wishes of joy and happiness.

The bride is a popular society young woman and her charming disposition has won her many friends. Mr. Stevenson is a member of the firm of Stevenson & Co. and a prominent business man. He and his bride left this afternoon for the lake region of New York where they will remain until after the first of September. They will be at home after tea 15th at 201 Western avenue.

Miss Shellabarger's Tea.

Miss Jessie Shellabarger's tea last evening was a charming little function, and about thirty young society men and women were asked to meet Miss Grace Shellabarger, of Decatur, Ill. Tea was served at 7 o'clock at small, daintily appointed tables, and afterwards a little music and dancing were enjoyed by the way of variety. Mr. Fred Bonebrake played some mandolin selections accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Bradley, and Mr. Walter Noble sang.

The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William McFerran, Misses Henrietta Thompson, Julia Walker, Hortense Kelly, Jessie Small, Miss Dallas of Washington, Abbie Ware, Dora Weaver, Agnes Lee of Kansas City, Susan Sweet, Carrie Bartholomew, Carrie Clarkson, Alice Hood of Emporia, and Messrs. Frank Edson, Charles Thomas, Harry Weaver, Will Walker, Ed. Dennis, Theo. Hammett, J. K. Bair, C. J. Prescott and Geo. Crawford.

Soup Bubble Party.

Little Rena Greenwald celebrated her fifth birthday yesterday afternoon with a "soup-bubble" party, and from four till seven o'clock the little folks made merry with games of all sorts, after the bubbles had lost their attraction.

Supper was served on the lawn, and those present were: Stella Leon, Sadie, Florence and Irwin Sauttinger, Salome and Stella Barnum, Eunice Brooks, Isaac and Alfred Barnum, Myron Waterman, Sammie, Jerome and Leon Greenbaum, Lottie, Ethel and Charlie Steinberg, Alie Howard, Ralph Ettlinger, George Ransom, Ralph and Carl House, David Rosenthal, Annie Cohen, Reah Cashman, and Carrie Strauss.

An Electric Car Ride.
Misses Flossie Hillyer and Louise Smith gave an electric car ride last evening complimentary to Miss Tina Bradt of Beatrice, Neb., and the young people were entertained afterwards at the home of Miss Hillyer. Among them were Misses Jeanette Lord, Emily King, Mary Colby, Lucy Knowles, Helen Walker, and Messrs. Guilford Dudley, George Chase, Tom Frost, R. Medeliot, Dorr Norton, Torrence Ewart, Howard Alderson, Dave Sibley and John McFarland.

A Children's Party.
Miss Mamie Black invited twelve girl friends to spend yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock to help celebrate her thirteenth birthday. The usual games were played and Miss Helen Fitch played some pretty selections on the guitar and Ruby Gage recited. After which cooling refreshments were served. Many pretty presents were received and the guests were Misses Helen Fitch, Hazel Baldwin, Ruby and June Gage, Katie Rushmore, Bertha Thomas, Nellie Breid, enthal, Mabel and Rea Connor, Lottie Fletcher, Mabel Rice and Great Spencer.

A Moonlight Picnic.

The T. V. club gave a picnic at Garfield park last evening and those present were Misses Nina Garvin, Josephine Marmont, Blanch Johnson, Pearl and La Verne Brubaker, Edith Smith and Lillian Griffith; Messrs. Lee Sidwell, Chas. Menard, Robt. Maxwell, James Garvin, Will Sadler, Will Jones and O. E. Keene.

Misses Social News.

Last evening at the home of Mr. J. T. Lagerstrom on Tyler street, Mrs. Margaret Jones and Mr. J. M. Furry, both of Virden, Ill., were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. McCabe. The bride is an aunt of Mrs. Lagerstrom's and Mr. Furry is a prominent dry goods merchant in Virden, where they will make their home.

OSCAR'S ENEMIES.

They Made It Highly Disagreeable for Him.

Oscar Espelin lives on State street near Eighth. Oscar is a tender boy of perhaps the tender age of 13. He works down town. Now Oscar is a Sunday school boy and does not associate with the bad, wicked boys on State street that do naughty things.

He carries a nice silk umbrella and his clothes are clean. All this you know would naturally have a tendency to cultivate a strained condition of affairs between Oscar and the other faction. The tension became too aggravated yesterday, and as Oscar proudly started to return from dinner, happy in the conviction that he had his Sunday lesson down pat, the seven tenor of his reflections on wickedness were rudely interrupted by a demand that he "light out." It came, he knew, from the wholly spirit of the street and he heeded it.

They then began to cast stones at him, and one of them came right through his silk umbrella. To stand this affront with humility was beyond Oscar's ability, and today he has had one of the boys, Willie Dillon—who aspires to be called Bill—arrested on charge of assault. This case will come up to amuse Judge Ensminger in the morning.

DEATH OF J. J. FISHER.

A Pioneer Citizen of Topeka Passes Away This Morning.

A pioneer citizen of Topeka, John J. Fisher, died at 5:49 a. m. this morning. The deceased came to Topeka in 1867 and has resided here ever since. He was register of the land office under President Arthur and served as justice of the peace for Topeka township a period of eighteen years.

He was born in Lancaster, O., February 5, 1823. His wife and son, George W., are left to mourn his loss. He was a prominent Odd Fellow, a member of Northcraft lodge No. 2, and was its treasurer from its institution until his illness made his resignation imperative. He was a good citizen and had a host of friends. The funeral services will take place from the family residence, 801 East Tenth street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Do not wear impermeable and tight-fitting hats that constrict the blood-vessels of the scalp. Use Hall's Hair Renewer occasionally, and you will not be bald.

GUILTY OF BIGAMY.

An Irresponsible Nonpareil Who Isn't Fit to Run at Large

Sheriff Burdige is looking diligently for Roy Gresham Higgins, a young man wanted in this county for bigamy.

About two years ago young Higgins who lived at Willard began to look about for a wife, and he concluded that pretty Belle James was as good a selection as he could make. Miss James was as nice young woman as any young man could want. He spoke to her about it and she was willing, but her parents were not so they eloped. They lived together several months when Higgins appears to have gone to gambling and doing other bad things, and finally about a year ago he deserted her and went to Kansas City. This proved to be a bad place for one of Roy's proclivities to go. He got mixed up in a scrape there and finally to escape from the penitentiary married his victim. In so doing however, he appears to have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. If Sheriff Burdige ever gets hold of him he will be prosecuted to a finish for having more wives than he really ought to have.

A REWARD IS OFFERED.

Thieves Wanted by Sheriff Burdige for Robberies Near Topeka.

Twenty dollars reward has been offered by Sheriff Burdige for the arrest of the persons who robbed several houses near Topeka. After giving a description of the stolen goods, the sheriff gives this description of the supposed thieves, which, from a literary view, would be a credit to a Chicago reporter. One man about 5 feet ten inches high, medium weight for a man of his height, auburn hair, light brown mustache, hump nose with straight sharp point, about 30 years old; one man about 5 feet 8 inches in height, heavy set, dark eyes, hair and mustache, nose flat to near the end, where it makes an abrupt turn upward, giving him a repulsive appearance, has a long, narrow scar on left side of face running from nose toward angle of jaw, and about forty years of age.

Equally safe for young or old, Ayer's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood from all impurities.
